

URGES HUNTERS TO BE CAREFUL

U. S. Forest Service Issues
Warning Against Causing Accidents With Firearms
and Starting Fires

Washington, September 4.—Emphasizing the destruction of property and human life caused by careless hunters, a warning issued by the Forest Service urges all sportsmen on the National Forests to use the greatest possible care to prevent forest fires and to avoid such accidents as the one which caused the death of Forest Ranger Clark on the Cabinet National Forest in Montana last year. Mr. Clark, it is said, was mistaken for a bear by a careless hunter who fired without waiting to be sure what he was shooting at. To show that such accidents are not uncommon, the warning quotes an estimate of the Biological Survey that between 150 and 200 persons are annually killed in hunting accidents in this country and that this number is increasing. Furthermore, it is stated, 15 per cent of all the forest fires in the National Forest are caused by careless hunters and other campers.

The National Forests, it is pointed out, contain the best hunting grounds in the country. The number of game animals is increasing on account of the protection from forest fires and illegal killing which is afforded by Forest officers. On many of the Forests, deer, elk, mountain sheep and many other species are fairly plentiful, while small game is usually abundant. Bear, mountain lion and other predatory animals are found on most of the Forests and the killing of these meat eaters is encouraged because they prey on domestic stock and the herbivorous game animals.

The best indication of a man's fitness to be in the woods, the warning points out, is the care which he shows in handling firearms and fire. None but the most inexperienced tenderfoot will snoot without getting a plain view of his game, while the man who lets his campfire escape or who carelessly drops a lighted match or hot tobacco ashes betrays at once his ignorance of the fundamental principles of woodcraft. Such men, says the warning, should keep out of the woods.

Will Try Cinders In Road Building

An experiment will be tried on the state aid road between Earlington and Mortons Gap road which, if successful, will mean a saving of many thousands of dollars to the taxpayers of Kentucky. The plan is to use a composition of cinders and clay on the road instead of the usual stone. This will be the first time this method of road building has been tried in Kentucky.

Road building experts have come to the conclusion that this composition will prove just as durable as stone, if not superior. Some say that during the first year the road may be a little soft, but that in the course of two or three years it will harden and make an ideal pike.

BURGLARS AROUND EARLINGTON

Nights in Succession

Burglars entered the rear of the Watts Grocery Monday night and relieved him of $40.00 in cash and other things, on Monday night they entered the front of the store and helped themselves to more groceries. Mr. Watts offered a reward of $100 for the arrest and conviction of the guilty parties.

How About Your Health?

What profiteth a man that he gain the whole world yet lose his health?

Naturalists say that long ago the prehistoric waters were infested with a species of enormous shark which finally became extinct by reason of the workings of its voracious appetite. Thus nature eliminates the over-fed.

The desire for ease of life and plentiful diet is universal and is the greatest stimulus of man and animals alike. When man becomes greedy and takes more ease and food and drink than is his share, nature discards him.

In the race for power and place, for ease of circumstance and relief from the stimulus of hunger, the modern man is apt to forget that unless he is careful of his body he will soon be made to suffer for the infraction of nature's inexorable physical law. With the loss in body tone comes an equal loss in mental acuity and the brain which for a time was able to operate despite the complaints of an over-fed, under-exercised, self-poisoned body, stops working.

Statisticians have discovered that the mortality rate of persons in the United States over 45 years of age is increasing. The strenuous life of today is not alone responsible for this. Lack of health-giving exercise, superfluity of diet, lack of restoring sleep, over-stimulation, the high pressure of the race for power, wealth and position, plus physical neglect,—these bring early decay. The goal is reached,—wealth is amassed,—honor, position and power are just being grasped when the apple of accomplishment turns to the ashes of dissolution. The brilliant mind becomes clouded, the steady hand is no longer accurate, the eye which once gazed fearlessly on the whole world is dimmed and it is not long before the final break-up occurs. All of this was entirely preventable.

Other things being equal it is the man who leads the well balanced life who lasts the longest, whose work to the end is uniformly the best, he who neither over-works nor over-plays, neither over-eats, over-drinks, nor over-sleeps, he who maintains a standard of simple healthy diet in moderation, who offsets mental work with physical recreation, who is as honest with his own body as he is with his own business. When success comes to such a one his physical and mental condition is such that he can enjoy in peace of mind and contentment of body the fruits of his labors.

Moved to Old Home

Ernest Newton, who recently sold his new home on Main street to Elsworth Evans, has made a number of repairs and improvements in his old home and moved there. Mr. Evans will move in the house purchased from Mr. Newton in a few days.

THOSE THAT HAVE-GET BY A.T. WESTON

ROUND HOUSE AND RIP TRACK

Force Will be Doubled—L. & N. Have Issued Orders to That Effect

The force at the round house and on the rip track will be doubled in a short time. Orders have been received by the proper officials to do this and business will begin to pick up at this end of the line. The main reason for this increase is the scarcity of coal cars, these cars have been sent to New Decatur, Ala. for repair heretofore, but the haul is too long and the Howell shops are overworked, consequently the company has decided to have a good portion of this work done at Earlington, which is in the center of the coal field where the cars are needed.

Albert Larmouth is Again With The Bee

Albert Larmouth has accepted a position with The Bee as local reporter and compositor and the readers of the Bee may look for all the local happenings to be duly chronicled. Albert has quite a good deal of experience along this line having worked for some time in this capacity on daily papers. Newman Whitford who has been compositor on the Bee for the past six or seven years, has resigned.

What About The Dixie Bee Line

The Dixie Bee Line has been completed from the corporate limits of Madisonville to the corporate limits of Earlington and is a splendid piece of roadway. The road through Earlington is in bad condition and will be considerably worse this Winter if it is not repaired now. The State and county have done their part, how about Earlington doing her part? Can she afford to let this thing drag along without action.

Mysophobia.
The famous dictionary compiler, Dr. Samuel Johnson, was impelled to touch and count all the pallings in fences he passed, and if he thought he had missed one he would start back and repeat the nonsensical enumeration. Mysophobia is an annoying obsession of this sort and more frequent than supposed, as the patients try to keep their peculiar behavior from notice. It is a fear of uncleanness or of contamination.

Straightening Out Mexico

Several weeks ago a prominent congressman, speaking at an important gathering in Washington, disclosed what he said was an attempt upon the part of the administration to have General Funston recommend the withdrawal of the American troops from Mexico. The latest development is that General Funston has made such a recommendation. The actual withdrawal has been going on for some time. The National Guard, which is protecting the border, is made up of some of the best material there is in the country, but it is apparent that this is rather a disjointed organization, and that its members are not particularly adapted nor well equipped for the task of invading a foreign country. When these troops went to the Mexican border nearly everyone supposed that there would be an invasion, or an attempt at intervention. No one seriously believed that General Pershing's column was being strengthened for the simple purpose of hunting out a lot of rag-muffins who had shot up an American town. However, there appears to have been a recurrence to methods of inquiry and negotiation, that may have grown out of the alarms of war. There is a good deal of quiet comfort about Washington in the growing belief that the Carranza administration may, after all, be able to handle the Mexican situation. No less a person than Secretary Lane, whom many regard as the strongest man in President Wilson's cabinet, has been placed upon a commission to adjust the differences between Mexico and the United States.

THE STRENOUS

MR. WILSON

Nobody can accuse President Wilson of having displayed any lack of energy in the handling of negotiations intended to prevent the strike. It is the ordinary custom of the President of the United States business. Guardians of the health of the President insist that he must not be overcrowded. The precedents all require that people who wish to see the President shall accommodate themselves to his convenience and time. Even in the handling of acute conditions with Germany and Mexico, Mr. Wilson adhered rather closely to his routine office hours. He insisted, in his dealings with the railroad officials and operators, that he was acting as the friend of all interested parties, and his anxiety to achieve success was shown by the fact that his week-end vacations were cancelled, and the audiences and conferences held were held at the White House evenings, Sundays, and at all times when it seemed probable any good might be accomplished. The president made several trips to the capital, and even visited senators in their offices. This latter procedure, has, perhaps, never been adopted by any other president.

The personal point of view of the administration evidently assumed that the public rights were paramount to those of the disputant railroad managers and operators. Mr. Wilson, as the chosen representative of the American nation, doubtless succeeded in impressing upon the parties to the controversy the right of the government to interfere. The heroes were equal to those employed by former President Roosevelt in the settlement of the anthracite coal strike, or in his interference in the Russian-Japanese war. Mayor Mitchell of New York took the same view of the recent street car strike in New York. His success might possibly have served as an incentive to Mr. Wilson to apply official force in the crisis of railroad affairs. In any event, the activity of the president has demonstrated that there is a new way of doing things, and the method appears to conform to the notions of progressiveness now popular with the American people.

MESSANGER CHANGES HANDS

A. C. Bailey Now Sole Owner of the Paper Recently Launched Here

The Madisonville Messenger which was launched some three months ago by Judge W. T. Mills, Clarence and Sloane Givens, is now the property of Mr. Bailey, who bought the interest of Messrs Givens and Mills yesterday. Mr. Bailey will be editor and proprietor of the Messenger in the future. He is a capable newspaper man, having had many years' experience and should be able to issue a creditable paper.

WANTED A HOME FOR AN ORPHAN CHILD

To the citizens of Kentucky:
The work of the Kentucky Children's Home Society has grown to such an extent that we find ourselves always overcrowded with children. We are extremely anxious to place our children in good Christian homes, and in this connection we will have an exhibit at the State Fair this year, with rest and lounging room for your convenience.

Our workers will be on the grounds and will be only to glad to escort you to the Home or will bring such children as you are interested in, to the Fair Grounds for you to see.

We have in the Receiving Home 225 children, of all ages, from babies a few months old up to girls and boys 12, 13 and 14 years old. When you realize that there are 120 counties in the State, and there is only one agency to receive destitute children, you will realize what a burden is upon you.

We are making an appeal to the citizens of Kentucky, as we cannot place our children in other States, and we hope that you will open your hearts and your homes to these little children, and give them a chance in your homes. The success of our work is due to the fact that so many of our friends have taken these children into their homes, and now at the beginning of the Fall Season, when the demands from the counties will be so great, it is imperative for us to place a number of our children in family homes.

If you will take a child you will find that you will have trouble enough and pleasure enough to compensate any effort you may make, and you will unconsciously and individually do a great work for the Home and for the future citizenship of our Commonwealth.

"It is more blessed to give than to receive" and to give a child a chance to become a good citizen is one of the highest privileges that comes to a family. Please think this matter over and if you want to make application for a child, we will be glad to take up the matter with you.

No family who have not the highest moral standing need apply for a child. The work is non-sectarian; members of any Church may make application for the children. Our object is to place our children in good Christian homes, where they will not only be given the advantages of Church and school but will receive a religious home-training.

Hoping that this will make an impression on the citizens of Kentucky, and that you will call to see our Exhibit at the State Fair, I remain,

Yours very respectfully,
GEO. L. SEILION
State Sup't

heads of tobacco.

Ambassador Gernrd has notified the state department in Washington that able market for the export trade of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia.

Morgan's Men Association, has issued a call for the annual reunion of the Work on the extension of the Morehead & Norfolk railroad, from Redwine to Lenox, Ky., has been resumed, and the contractors say the road will be completed by December 1st. This road will open the largest coal and

While on his way to Lexington to secure a job, John Galligan, 16 years old, of Cincinnati, fell from the bumpers of a train on which he was stealing a ride and was badly mangled.
One leg was cut off near the hip and the foot of the other leg severed.

Moss Wall, who operates a farm on the border of Simpson and Logan counties, is doubtless the largest tobacco grower south of Louisville, having 175 acres of the weed. The tobacco is of the broad leaf variety, and is said to be the finest grown in the two counties in years.

Fred Link, Chief of Police of Paris,
was arrested by Patrolman George Judy, charged with violation of a city ordinance prohibiting the parking of automobile on Main street. He was fined $5 and costs, which was suspended upon the Chief promising to be more careful in the future.

Kentucky's right to jurisdiction over the waters of the Ohio river between this state and Indiana is upheld in a decision handed down in Louisville by Judge William H. Field. Judge Field held valid an act of the recent general assembly prohibiting fishing with a spear in the waters of the Ohio.

Harry G. Dickerson, Assistant Postmaster at Glasgow, has been arrested by Federal officers, charging him with having taken $1,000 in currency from the mails. It is said that he confessed. His arrest caused a sensation because of his standing in the community, being identified with church work.

That the Kentucky School for the Blind is in a position to teach the adult blind a trade by which they can earn a living, was brought home to Frankfort people when John Girmes,
a young man of that city, returned home after a two weeks' stay at the home, able to make brooms, mops and cane chairs.

Harry J. Schlessinger, of Milwaukee, has also completed negotiations with the James B. Haggis estate for the 1,541 acres of famous Bluegrass land on the Russell Cave pike. This is the beginning of the disintegration of the vast land holdings of the famous financier and turfman.

Henry S. Barker, president of the University of Kentucky, has received

Twenty-first United States Infantry,

days, it is believed, Wheelright will have a population of from 2,000 to 3,000.

Department orders have stopped further withdrawals of the troops from the Kentucky National Guard. Students who had planned to resume their studies this autumn under a provision permitting them to resign must rejoin the colors, and even withdrawals because of dependent relatives no longer will be permitted. The unexpected change in attitude of the department was unexplained.

Uncle Hob Bates, the father of 22
children, and one of the wealthiest and most active old men in the mountains, has returned to his home near Whitesburg from a horseback trip to Mt. Sterling, nearly 200 miles, where he took a large drove of young cattle.
He celebrated his 92nd birthday at his remarkably quiet old home, back on the headwaters of Rockhouse creek,
in Letcher county.

Strong measures of retaliation against Great Britain on account of the embargo shutting American tobacco out of Germany and Austria, thus causing an estimated loss this year of $10,000,000 to tobacco growers
of Kentucky, Virginia and Tennessee, are proposed in an amendment to the general revenue bill which Senator James, of Kentucky, introduced in the senate.

The print of a bloody hand on a pool room wall and blood stains on a pool table at High Bridge have solved
the mystery of the disappearance of Samuel W. Bedford, a prominent Lexington insurance man who dropped out of sight while on a trip to High Bridge February 18. Mr. Bedford was murdered because he was thought to be a United States Marshal. His assassinate are alleged bootleggers.

The Kentucky State Fair management has announced awards numbering 6,612, aggregating $40,000 in premiums, which will be distributed during the fourteenth annual fair to be held in Louisville, September 11-16.
The Legislature appropriated $15,000
of this amount and the remainder was added by the State Fair Board and public-spirited citizens. Each day during the fair an average of 1,102 awards will be made.

Alleging that his reputation as a business man and his milk business have been damaged in the sum of $5,000, because of statements made concerning the milk he sold to Henderson families, Otto J. Hoffman, milk dealer, filed suit against Dr. W. W.
Wilson. The plaintiff alleges that the physician asserted to the homes of several families that illness among members was due to the milk used.
Loss of trade followed.

Charles Estes, alleged moonshiner, who was arrested in Green county by federal officers, is happy and contented, nevertheless. It is charged Estes was at work at his still when placed under arrest. "I was never so satisfied in all my life," said Estes after being locked up at jail. "The arrest wasn't so pleasant, and I've had a hard time with you fellows, but I haven't ever before had a ride in an automobile or one in a train, and I've learned a lot more'n I ever expected I'd learn."

To look at the residence of a former president in Cincinnati, O., is a costly thing. Bryon Taylor, of Lagrange, Ky., will aver. Bryon arrived there and soon met two available fellows, who suggested a stroll. Bryon, a six footer, gazed in admiration. Seeing the farmer was in a good humor, his "friends"
suggested a penny matching game.
The old man was to win. One of the friends happened to be odd all of the time, and soon Bryon lost his roll of $18. He requested the police to recover it.

Owing to the high price of flour throughout the rural sections of the mountains, farmers are generally preparing to organize wheat growers' associations. Many of the farmers of Eastern Kentucky will sow wheat this fall. Milling concerns propose to be in readiness to exchange flour for any amount of wheat that can be grown,
and are assisting the farmers in concentrating their efforts upon wheat growing. In many of the out-of-the-way sections of the mountains, flour is sold at $10 per barrel and continues to advance.

Catarhal Deafness Cannot be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarhal Deafness that cannot be cured
by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists. 75c.

MR. WILSON HAS HAD NO MEXICAN POLICY.

"We cannot let the American spirit fall so low that, leaped in the luxury occasioned by a foreign war, we shall see American lives sacrificed without a determination to prevent it and to make the American name honored and respected wherever our flag flies. The trouble with this administration is this: I don't think it ever has had a polly in Mexico worthy of the name."—From Mr. Hughes' Speech at Chicago.

MR. HUGHES HAS EXPLODED THE "KEPT US OUT OF WAR" ARGUMENT.

Mr. Hughes' attack upon the "kept-us-out-of-war" argument has aroused a storm of enthusiasm.

"Kept us out of war!" he demands. "Why, there were nineteen men—good American soldiers, shot down at Vera Cruz, and many Mexicans were killed by our men. That was war. Moreover, it was a very ignoble war. I have heard three explanations of the Vera Cruz move.

"First, it was explained that it was made in order to compel somebody to salute the flag—somebody who had insulted us. But the flag was not saluted and has not been to this day. Then it was said that the salute was not what we sought, but to prevent the landing of a boatload of ammunition intended for Huerta. The ammunition landed, however, and it has been shown that it reached Huerta in due season without interference on our part.

"When that reason was shown to be untenable a third one—and possibly the real one—finally was advanced. It was said that our seizure of Vera Cruz was a move to compel the retirement of Huerta. It seems possible that this is true, although we had promised the Mexicans that we would not interfere in their affairs and told them more than once that we wanted them to handle their own affairs.

"That is why the Mexicans could not understand us and that is why they show little faith in our promises."

MANANA.

Manana, which is Mexican for "watchful waiting," is the Democratic keynote in the campaign. The Wilson drive is to begin "some time" after Sept. 1, but no definite engagements have been made. It is announced, for him to commence making political speeches. He has tentative engagements to make some western visits about the middle of September, but nothing positive. Plans are being formulated for carrying on a campaign to capture the woman vote of the country, but who will make the speeches on this phase of the controversy has not been determined. It has been expected that Mr. Bryan would speak in the Maine campaign, but it is now believed he cannot do so, but will make some speeches later. And so it goes. Watchful waiting will prevail, while in the meantime Mr. Hughes is carrying on a positive campaign and arousing the entire western country.

SOUTH-IN-SADDLE IN NAVY.

Out of the 17 Ranking Officers in Charge of Naval Affairs 12 Are From South.

To Josephus Daniels, who has represented the Administration's Policy with regard to the first line defense, is credited responsibility for cramping and thwarting progress and efficiency in the navy.

Many new men have been brought into the Washington end of the navy organization. Of the secretaries high ranking officers who are charged with the responsible duties of administering the affairs of the navy twelve are from the Southern states. In years gone by necessity did not arise to question from what section come the officers chosen to head the bureaus of the Navy Department. Comparisons between the army and navy in this respect will show that no such conditions exist in the war Department.

It is true, as Vice President Marshall remarked, that the Hughes speech of acceptance "had all the length and tone of a dissenting opinion." But he omitted to add that the dissenting opinion thus expressed is that of the American people.

WE WANT THE AMERICAN FLAG UNSULLIED.

"Now, my friends, we want not only American efficiency in business, in efficiency in the organization of business, in the protection of the factors of human industry and commerce, we want the American flag unsullied and the American name honored throughout the world."—From Mr. Hughes' Speech at Chicago.

SEEK PROGRESSIVE AND LABOR VOTES ON FALSE CLAIMS

Democrats Posing as the Enactors of Legislation Which the Indisputable Facts Show to Be of Republican Origin.

AUTHORITY ON SOUND SOCIAL LAW CITES 11 GLARING CASES

Organized Labor Resents This Deception and Running True to Form Will in November as at Many Previous Elections Indignantly Smite Those Who Without Justice Lay Claim to Its Gratitude—Even the Much Touted Federal Reserve Law is Based Entirely on the Statistical Research of a Republican Administration.

That "No class is more instant than labor to condemn and punish those who without foundation lay claim to its gratitude" is the assertion of John Williams, ex-commissioner of labor, apropos of certain false claims set forth by Vance McCormick, Democrat national chairman, in behalf of his party.

Chairman McCormick caused to be published in the New York Times, on July 31, an appeal for Progressive and Labor support, based on "twenty measures enacted by congress while President Wilson has been in the White House," and for which he claims credit for the Wilson administration and asks Progressive approbation. Commenting on this statement, the former commissioner of labor says: "Students and promoters of sound social legislation will do well to examine this list, for it contains a number of items of unusual interest."

"We may well believe that it was with a great deal of pride that Mr. McCormick contemplated the record of his party and that he drew a vivid mental picture of Progressives flocking to the support of Mr. Wilson because of the things claimed on behalf of this administration."

"It is a pity that in the interest of truth, which knows neither Democrat, Progressive nor Republican, we must use this remarkable statement. Nevertheless it is our duty to call attention to the fact that in his effort to induce support for Mr. Wilson the chairman of the Democratic national committee has fallen into a glaring error. We have no desire to disparage the achievements of the Wilson administration, but we must enter emphatic protest against any attempt to pad the record."

"Mr. McCormick claims 'twenty measures enacted by congress while President Wilson has been in the White House.' This claim we dispute. More than one-half are measures enacted under a Republican administration and were approved by ex-President Taft, and for others the Democratic administration deserves no credit."

"Let any one think that this is a groundless assertion, we herewith furnish the record, which can easily be verified:

"From among the twenty pieces of legislation cited by Chairman McCormick I select the following:

"(1) Eight hour law on government work. In effect March 1, 1913. Signed by Mr. Taft.

"(2) Eight hour provision for post-office clerks. In effect generally Aug. 24, 1912.

"(3) Eight hour provision applicable to the manufacture of ordnance for the government. In effect Jan. 1, 1913. Signed by Mr. Taft.

"(4) Children's bureau. In effect April 9, 1912. Signed by Mr. Taft.

"(5) Industrial commission law to investigate industrial relations. In effect Aug. 23, 1912. Signed by Mr. Taft.

"(6) The phosphorous match law. Enacted in 1912, effective as to the importation of white phosphorous matches July 1, 1913, and as to the manufacture of such matches July 1, 1913. Signed by Mr. Taft.

"(7) The department of labor law creating a department with a secretary who shall be a member of the president's cabinet. In effect March 4, 1913. Signed by Mr. Taft.

"(8) The parcel post law. In effect Jan. 1, 1913. Signed by Mr. Taft.

"(9) The federal reserve law, which, while passed during this administration, is based entirely on the vast work of investigation and compilation done by the monetary commission during the Taft administration and closely follows, except in certain details, the legislation recommended by that commission."

"(10) The eight hour law for the District of Columbia was fathered and put through by a Republican, Senator La Follette.

"The anti-trust law antedates the Cleveland administration, although President Cleveland never enforced it. From 1890 to 1913, as with all great legislative acts, it has been necessary to amend or add to it, and the anti-trust law of the Wilson administration was merely such an amendment, a logical development of the original act."

"(11) The Commerce Court was actually abolished during the Taft Administration, although it has not been demonstrated that its abolition was a wise step."

"Any statement hereafter emanating from Mr. McCormick will be subjected to the closest scrutiny. The errors in his first effort are inexcusable and can only arouse resentment among labor men and social workers. No class is more instant than labor to condemn and punish those who without foundation lay claim to its gratitude.

"Will Mr. McCormick exhibit his padding of the Record?"
(Signed) JOHN WILLIAMS,
Ex-Commissioner of Labor, New York State.

AN UNBIASED VIEW.

Comment in Washington Shows Hughes' Speeches Have Concrete Effect.

From Washington correspondence New York Evening Post:

It is idle even for the Democrats to claim that Mr. Hughes' speeches have not been effective. Whether or not they have seemed so to the voters in the west and northwest is something very difficult to judge at this distance, but it is not to be denied that right here in Washington Mr. Hughes' utterances have had a very concrete effect. It is an ill wind that blows no good. The rumormongers that Mr. Hughes has stirred up about civil service reform has really got under the skin of the administration. It is something which the president and his political advisers have ignored. So it is with a portion of Mr. Hughes' criticism of the Mexican policy. When he argues that the paramount duty of the United States is to protect its citizens abroad in their lives and property he is standing on unimpeachable ground. And the administration knows it. The effect certainly of Mr. Hughes' remarks will be to stiffen the hand of the administration in dealing with a question of protection for Americans abroad.

HUGHES' LABOR RECORD.

When Mr. Compers, remembering only that he is a Democrat and forgetting that he is a leader of organized labor, ventured to assert that Mr. Hughes is unfriendly to labor because he concurred in the unanimous decision in the Danbury haters' case, he ventured on very thin ice. The Chicago Tribune promptly reminds him that as honest judge must apply the law as he thinks it, not as he thinks it ought to be, and asks him to tell those who look to him for political advice something about the record of Mr. Hughes as governor. Head what the Legislative Labor News, the official organ of the New York Federation of Labor, said editorially when Mr. Hughes left the governor's chair at Albany for his place on the supreme court. Here it is: "Now that Governor Hughes has retired from politics and ascended to a place on the highest judicial tribunal in the world, the fact can be acknowledged without hurting anybody's political corns that he was the greatest friend of labor laws that ever occupied the governor's chair at Albany. During his two terms he has signed fifty-six labor laws, including among them the best labor laws ever enacted in this or any state."

"He also urged the enactment of labor laws in his messages to the legislature, even going so far as to place the demand for a labor law in one of his messages to an extra session of the legislature."

"Only 192 labor laws have been enacted in this state since its creation in 1777—in 133 years. One-third of these, exceeding in quality all of the others, have been enacted and signed during Governor Hughes' term of three years and nine months."

Let organized labor take to heart what the Chicago Tribune says on this point: "Mr. Hughes is no demagogue and no visionary. He is a man of courage and conscience, and if labor cannot confide in his cause to his rock bottom Americanism there is something wrong with its cause."—Boston Herald.

THE GREATEST OF READJUSTERS

[From the New York Evening Post.]

We do not see why there should have been any stir in the senate over the discovery that President Wilson has completely reversed himself in the matter of the proposed child labor law. Senator Borah was able to show that Mr. Wilson described this legislation in his "Constitutional Government" as unconstitutional and "obviously absurd extravagance," carrying the congressional power to regulate commerce beyond the "utmost boundaries of reasonable and honest inference," and making it possible, if sustained, for congress to legislate over "every particular of the industrial organization and action of the country."

That we must confess, has also been the Evening Post's view. But the Evening Post and Senator Borah are old fogies, dating back to the time when it was the custom to have fixed beliefs and principles and stick to them.

The senator has evidently not read Mr. Wilson's letter to explaining his change of front on the tariff commission—that it is only a narrow man whose mind is stupidly closed to new ideas, who does not alter his opinions. By this test Mr. Wilson is obviously one of the broadest minded men this country has ever produced, for he has changed his mind to date on the tariff, referendum, recall, woman suffrage, the tariff commission, tariffs for revenue only, a permanent diplomatic service beyond politics, the merit system in the civil service, the proper place of Tammany Hall in the scheme of the universe, child labor legislation, preparedness, Bryan, a continental army—but why continue? It is a long enough list to prove that Mr. Wilson's political views are not fossilized by any fear of inconsistency.

HE KEPT US OUT OF WHAT WAR?

Disingenuous to Boast That It's Through Any Act of Wilson We Are Out of the European Contest.

RATHER SHOULD BE BLAMED FOR MEXICO BELLIGERENCE

During the Present Administration We Have Seized a Mexican Port and Sent Our Entire Army and Militia to Fight Mexicans While Armed Mexican Forces Have Invaded American Soil and Fought Battles Against Our People.

Sometimes you hear men, sensible men, too, say, "I'm going to vote for Wilson this year because he kept us out of war."

Ask such men a short question. Ask them, "Out of what war?"

Did Mr. Wilson keep us out of the European war? No. He has himself in a formal address to congress spoken of the European war as "a war with which we have nothing to do, a war whose causes do not touch us." How could Mr. Wilson keep us out of a war with which we have nothing to do and whose causes do not touch us?

Did he keep the rest of the western hemisphere out of the European war? No independent nation on this side of the world is involved in it; the only people in it are the colonies of European powers and they had no voice in their fate, for they were automatically at war when their mother governments went to war. Who kept Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Peru, out of the European war? Did Mr. Wilson?

Did Mr. Wilson keep us out of war with Mexico? No. In his term more Americans have been killed by Mexicans and more American property has been destroyed by Mexicans than by Spaniards during the whole Spanish war. In his term we have seized a Mexican port and have sent our entire regular army and militia to fight Mexicans. In his term Mexican armed forces have invaded American soil and fought battles against our people within our boundaries.

President Taft went through two Mexican revolutions during his term, the revolution against Diaz and the revolution against Madero. American lives were safe in Mexico during that time. No Mexican cities were seized by Americans and no armed Mexicans invaded the United States while Mr. Taft was in the White House. Yet Mr. Taft never thought of asking the American people to vote for him because he kept us out of war with Mexico. He put an embargo on arms so that American weapons would not be sent across the boundary, and he refused to interfere in Mexican affairs. When he left office Mexicans liked Americans, and Americans were safe in Mexico. Since he left office Mexicans hate Americans and Americans dare not remain in Mexico. Did Mr. Wilson keep us out of war with Mexico? Not if words mean anything.

Mr. Wilson did not keep us out of the European war, and he did not keep us out of war with Mexico.

Out of what war, then?—Detroit Free Press.

UNITED STATES' HONOR.

Hughes' Criticism of Foreign Policy Approved in West.

[Portland (Ore.) Telegram.]

The Republican party has selected a standard bearer whose utterances from day to day justify the people who chose him. Not only does his bring before the country the shortcomings of the Administration that owes its existence to a divided Republicanism, but his criticism is everywhere constructive.

He tells what must be done and will be done by the party he represents to prevent waste and extravagance in the governmental expenditures and to put a stop to the vacillating policy that has caused other nations to believe that the United States has no intention of backing up its demands made in the interests of justice and humanity.

Most vulnerable of all points in the Democratic armor is its foreign policy. Primarily this is because of the spoils system by which men trained in the consular and diplomatic service through long years, have been displaced to make room for politicians and friends of politicians, whose sole claim to preferment was their services to the Democratic party.

"If I am elected president of the United States," said Mr. Hughes last night, "I propose that every man I put in charge of an important department shall be a man eminently fit to discharge the duties of that department."

The denuding of the diplomatic service of men of experience in order to supply political jobs, as has been done by Mr. Wilson, or with his consent, Mr. Hughes denounces as "a capital offense—trading to the good name of the United States and denigrating its honor." "Nobody," he adds, "has a right to pay political debts with the good name and honor of the United States."

Which is clear proof that Mr. Hughes has not been unkindful of the high principles of government which must be maintained in order that this republic shall maintain its place as a shining example to all nations.

ROOSEVELT APPLAUDS HUGHES' SPEECH

Theodore Roosevelt sat in a box at Carnegie hall when Mr. Hughes delivered his speech of acceptance and vigorously applauded every telling point.

The colonel repeatedly arose and bowed in response to the cheers for him and the shouts of "Teddy!" "Teddy!" "Hurrah for Teddy!" and when the meeting adjourned he made the following statement:

"It is an admirable speech, and I wish to call attention to the following points:

"I am particularly pleased with the exposure of the folly, and worse than folly, of Mr. Wilson's Mexican policy and of the way in which this policy has brought humiliation to the United States and disaster to Mexico itself."

"Moreover, I am very glad of the straightforward manner in which Mr. Hughes has shown the ridicule with which Mr. Wilson has covered this nation by the manner in which he allowed foreign powers to gain the impression that, although he used the strongest words in diplomacy, they were not to be taken seriously."

Not Words Which Count.

"As Mr. Hughes said, it is not words, but the strength and resolution behind the words which count. As Mr. Hughes pointed out, there is no doubt that if Mr. Wilson's conduct and action had been such as to make the foreign nations believe that he meant precisely what he said in his 'strict accountability' there would have been no construction of American lives by the slinking of the Lusitania."

"When Mr. Hughes uses strong words his record shows that they are always backed by strong deeds, and therefore in the enormous majority of cases the use of strong words renders it unnecessary ever to have recourse to strong deeds."

"Again, Mr. Hughes speaks in characteristic straightforward fashion of the outrages committed on millions of plants, and all men, whether citizens of foreign nations or nominal citizens of our own land, who had in any shape or way abetted or condoned those actions can understand that Mr. Hughes, if president, will protect these domestic American interests and punish offenders against them with the fearlessness and thoroughness that he showed in dealing with the powers of evil at Albany."

Brought Nation to Ignominy.

"Just before coming in to listen to Mr. Hughes' just characterization of Mr. Wilson's failure to protect the lives and property of Americans in Mexico and on the high seas I happened to pick up John Blake's 'Critical Period of American History' and was struck by the following two sentences: "A government touches the lowest point of ignominy when it confesses its inability to protect the lives and the property of its citizens. A government which has come to this has failed in discharging the primary function of government and forthwith ceases to have any reason for existing."

"Mr. Hughes has pointed out in his speech with self restraint, but with emphasis, that it is precisely this primary function which Mr. Wilson's administration has failed to discharge and that it is precisely this point of ignominy to which he has reduced the nation over which he is president."

A POLICY OF FIRMNESS AND CONSISTENCY NEEDED.

The nation has no policy of aggression toward Mexico. We have no desire for any part of her territory. We wish her to have peace, stability and prosperity. We shall have to adopt a new policy, a policy of firmness and consistency through which alone we can promote an enduring friendship. We demand from Mexico the protection of the lives and the property of our citizens and the security of our border from depredations. Much will be gained if Mexico is convinced that we contemplate no meddling interference with what does not concern us, but that we propose to insist in a firm and candid manner upon the performance of international obligations. To a stable government, appropriately discharging its international duties, we should give ungrudging support. A short period of firm, consistent and friendly dealing will accomplish more than many years of vacillation. — From Mr. Hughes' Speech of Acceptance.

AN ADMINISTRATION TOO CONTENT WITH LEISURELY DISCUSSION.

I do not put life and property on the same footing, but the administration has not only been remiss with respect to the protection of American lives. It has been remiss with respect to the protection of American property and American commerce. It has been too much disposed to be content with leisurely discussion. — From Mr. Hughes' Speech of Acceptance.
